“Excellent.” “Informative.”

Workshop attendees told us that they have enjoyed the 2009 Series workshops, and “can’t wait” until the next ones. The classroom has been at capacity for the workshops, so don’t wait too long to sign up.

Addiction professionals education since 1986.

Breining Institute has been providing education, training, testing and certification for addiction professionals since 1986.

Our Addiction Specialist credential (RAS) is nationally accredited by the National Commission for Certifying Agencies (NCCA), and was the first nationally accredited and State approved addiction counselor certification in the State of California.

And we offer daily testing for the RAS Credential at over 150 exam centers located throughout the United States.

Our college certificate and degree programs are approved by the State of California Bureau for Private Postsecondary and Vocational Education.

Our Masters and Doctorate degrees are recognized as qualifying degrees for the award of the MAC certification from NAADAC.

And our Continuing Education courses are approved by numerous agencies throughout the United States, most of which are available on-line. Visit us at www.breining.edu
